Issac was a farmer in Harris County (Cataula/Hamilton areas)

He died of a heart condition and is buried in the Old Hudson Cemetery on Lower Blue Springs Road. He never fussed at me, according to his daughter Lizzie. Maybe because she was the baby of the family. She said the only times he fussed was at Georgianne, his wife, because she was always slow and he wanted to get to church on time. (Friendship Baptist Church). Church was held once a month back then. Wagons, walking, riding mules and horses was the transportation of the day.
